Honoring the Parallel Process of Reflective Practice: Promoting Collaborative Relationships in Treatment and Supervision

Reflective practice is a supportive, growth-promoting approach to working with children and families. This practice is the gold standard for supporting families, promoting a positive work environment and preventing burnout. Teachers, mental health therapists, early intervention practitioners, supervisors, administrators and others all benefit from utilizing reflective practice. Join us for this introductory training to learn:

- Core principles of reflective practice
- Reflective practice tools to use with families
- Strategies to promote reflective practice in supervision

CA Endorsed Infant-Family Early Childhood Mental Health Specialist and Reflective Practice Facilitator II, Jessica Richards, LCSW will use case vignettes to illustrate concepts and practice news skills. This training is designed for direct service providers (therapists, teachers, aides, case managers) as well as supervisors.
